DIGITAL MEDIA ARTS

About the Program

San José City College Graphic Design offers an Associate in Arts (AA) in Graphic Design, Associate in Science (AS) in User Experience and Interactive Design and a User Experience and Interactive Design Certificate of Achievement. Students planning to follow a transfer pattern should use the Associate in Arts degree. This degree may not transfer to all universities, and students need to inquire of the universities if they have a bachelor's degree for their upper division course work.

All major and certificate courses including approved major electives must be completed with a grade "C" or better.
